REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Washington, Aug. 6.-The report of the tions. The Treasury does not own, but leases. The Army has six stations and one pertable train, and is about to estabone portable than, and is about to establish two more in Alaska. The Department of Agriculture has two stations, and an indefinite number of additional ones in view. The Navy has twenty stations already, equipped with a variety of systems. Ten more are about to be erected—and the department purposes thirty shore stations, or eighty in all. Also it has thirty-four ships equipped with apparatus and proposes to equip sixty-eight others, making a total of 182 shore and ship stations. Should present experiments on torpedo boats prove successful, this total will be increased to about 200.

In addition to the Government stations, the commission finds that there are many private stations, and states that at times they have seriously interfered with the navy at New York and Hoston. The board concludes:

That wireless telegraphy is a necessity to the Government in both peace and war.

That strife between the army and navy lish two more in Alaska. The Department should be adjusted by a joint board.

That the navy should control the coastwise system, and should transmit its information to the Weather Bureau for the making of ocean forecasts, a work now done by the hydrographic office of the navy.

The many scheme to cover the coasts and the canal zone and the insular possessions is approved.

It recommends that as soon as the navy gets its system into operation, it shall receive and transmit all messages to and from ships free of charge, provided that such service does not compete with commercial stations.

DEALINGS DOWN TO LEVEL OF MIDSUMMER DULLNESS.

Uncertainty Over Extent of Dame age to Spring Wheat Continues Predominating Influence.

New York, Aug. 6-There is little to ecord of to-day's short session of the Stock Exchange, Dealings ran down to the level of midsumner duliness and the to be entirely inconclusive as to any sentiexpressed.

The amerianty over the extent of damage to the spring wheat was a continuing factor and is expected to be until the publication of the Government report on next Wednesday. The raily in the price of British consols in London is a favorable influence on all securities markets.

The outgo of gold which has been inaugurated in the subject of interested discussion, but is of little concrete effect owing to the plethoric condition of the money market. Foreign bankers refraigirous offering bills against future shipments of grain and cotton, as they usually do at this time of the year, because there is no choice of employing the proceeds to advantage in the present stagmant money market here.

The money rate is relatively high in London and no commercial bills of exchange are offering as a means of remittance of credits. The shipment of gold is therefore the only alternative. The gold outgo next week, so far as arranged, promises to he more than offset by the expected receipt at Han Francisco of Mercogoly in Japanese and Australian gold, to be transferred to New York by telegraph.

REVIEW OF WEEK,

Increasing attention has been given in the stock market this week to the condi-

Increasing attention has been given in the stock market this week to the condition and prospect of the crops. The conflicting influences from that source have caused a tone of hesitation in the stock market and a decrease in the activity of the trading. But the week's movement has been, on the whole, towards higher prices. With the most brilliam prospects ever recorded for a large and profitable cotton crop and with reports in currency during the week pointing to something like a disaster to the year's wheat crop, the divided sentiment in the stock market is explained.

The consideration of the cotton crop was prompted by the publication of the Government's estimation of a condition on July 25 of 21.6 per cent of an estimated acreage of 22.600,600.

The sharp rise in condition during July is contrary to the usual precedent. Although the critical period for the crop is yet to come, the favorable progress thus far and the absence of serious burtful factors in the weather conditions from day to day give rise to the brightest hopes for this highly important element in the country's prosperity. The small effect produced on the price of cotton is to be attributed, without doubt, in large part to the large outstanding short interest waiting to cover in anticipation of current developments.

But confidence is felt also that the holding of the price is due to the good prospects of a favorable market for the staple, even with the abundant supply in prospect. It is generally believed that stocks of cotton the world over are at a low stage, owing to the long sustained high price and the resultant policy of hand-to-mouth buying, which has been followed by consumers.

the cotton traffic should have been con-spicuously strong in the week's trading. Additional sympathetic effect has been produced on the group by the prosperous showing contained in the snaual report of the Southern Raliway and by the action of the Central of Georgia directors in de-claring the first interest disbursement ever allowed for the second preferred income bonds of that company.

claring the first interest disbursement ever allowed for the second preferred income bonds of that company.

The prospect of a snort crop of wheat presents a sharp contrast. The heavy decrease in the exports of wheat for the last pear is evidence that last year's small surplus available for export will be materially cut down this year. leaving an important gap in the foreign commerce of the country.

The corn crop is still looked to hopefully to eke out the deficiency in our grain exports, the more so as all accounts point to a serious shortage in the foreign wheat crops. The foreign demand for corn is already reported to be increasing, and the further progress of that crop, which promises well, will be watchfully regarded as an important factor in the business conditions of the coming year.

Other factors in the outlook have been as mixed as those for the crops. The week's advices indicate some revival in the iron and steel trade, and great importance is attached to these. Large orders were placed for pig iron, and the announcement of orders for 60,00 tons of steel rails for the Harriman system of railroads was of marked effect on the stocks of that system and on the iron and steel stocks.

Railroad officials assert that there is oats. Considerable long oats were offered for sale, but the recent buil leaders falled to give the market any support. The close was at the low point. September opened 1478 lower at 31 to 334c, sold between 25% and closed at 25%c. Local receipts were 381 cars.

The discussion of atrike preparations by the anthracite miners, the strikes of the meat packers and the cotton operatives and the disturbance in the building trades in New York all furnish food for this anxiety and exercise a perceptible repressive effect on the operations in the stock market.

The shutting down of works by the Pullman Co., owing to iack of orders and of some of the great harvesting machinery works are of bad effect on sentiment as clear indications of shrinkage in business. For the same reason small comfort is derived from the great ease of the money market, due to the piling up of idle reserves in banks.

The meat packers' strike is having the effect of aggravating this situation in Chicago and St. Louis.

Little attention has been paid to the war news from the far East, except so far as it has been a factor in the tightening of the London money market and the withdrawal of gold from New York. London's demand on us for gold is accepted as an admonition that the usual resource on that center for funds to move the crops is to be denied us this fail. The running deficit in the Government revenues also keeps alive the possibility of a necessary withdrawal of Government deposits from the banks.

The investment demand in the bond market has shrunk to small proportions, but a good effect is produced by the successful marketing of several bond issues to first subscribers. United States bonds are unchanged on call for the week.
